Huge hazard ahead

A portion of Gold Camp Road is now closed to vehicles until further notice due to a large boulder blocking the roadway. The closure is from the northern boundary of North Cheyenne Cañon Park, north of the Chutes and Ladders trailhead, to the gravel parking lot uphill from Helen Hunt Falls. Onlookers check out the boulder after it fell Sunday. The USDA Forest Service will be assessing all options for remediation. The public is asked to please avoid the area to minimize traffic issues associated with overcrowding.
